Moon Pies and RC Colas for E. Ky. troops

The West Liberty Kiwanis Club plans to present Moon Pies and RC Colas to the local Red Cross Chapter next Monday for shipment to troops from Eastern Kentucky serving in the war zone in Iraq.

The presentation by the Mid-East Ky. Chapter of the American Red Cross will take place at the Kiwanis Club's regular meeting on Monday at Pattie's Place Restaurant.

The items being donated were obtained from the Chattanooga, Tenn., bakery that makes Moon Pies and RC distributors of Whitesburg and Paintsville.

Moon Pies and RC's were a mainstay of generations of Eastern Kentuckians—school children and farmers—and are still considered a tasty summertime treat when available.

Big trophies for local Cub Scouts

Members of West Liberty Christian Church Cub Scout Pack 111 traveled to Jackson on Saturday, April 19, to participate in the annual Daniel Boone District Pinewood Derby. The Daniel Boone District includes scouts from surrounding counties. Pack 111 had an outstanding showing at this year's event, claiming the top three positions in the Champion Class race. To qualify for the Champion Class a scout had to finish in the top five at his local pack derby race. Pack 111 also claimed fourth place in the Open Class race. All scouts registered in the Daniel Boone District were eligible to compete in the Open Class race. Pictured from left are Pack 111 scouts Kerrick Walter (2008 Daniel Boone District Champion), McKenzie Daniel (2nd place Champion Class), Jacob Elam (3rd place Champion Class), and Tre' Duvall (4th place Open Class).

Murder and arson suspected in deaths at Cannel City

Bodies tentatively identified; money not accounted for

By Miranda Cantrell James

Kentucky State Police officials have confirmed that the deaths of two people whose bodies were found in an April 15 house fire at Cannel City are being investigated as homicides.

KSP Trooper Ralph Lockard said the deceased, tentatively identified as Berniece Elam, 81, and her disabled son, Nathan "Mickey" Elam, 54, may have been victims of foul play.

"There is a possibility that the fire was arson," Lockard said. "Circumstances surrounding the deaths and evidence found at the fire scene and in the preliminary autopsy results indicate that the deaths may have been murders."

"Investigators have no suspects at this time," he said.

Lockard noted that a large sum of money thought by family members to have been in the house remains unaccounted for.

Caney Valley, West Liberty, Blackwater and Hwy. 172/Peddler Gap firefighters responded to 9047 Hwy. 191 after neighbor Rodell Haney notified dispatch of a fire in the two story frame residence at approximately 3 a.m.

A Sheriff's Department spokesperson told The Courier last week that law enforcement officers had been dispatched to the Elam home prior to the fire in reference to a complaint from Berniece Elam regarding trespassors operating ATVs on her property.

Berniece Elam reported the trespassors around midnight, the spokesperson said.

Fire authorities disclosed that the blaze, which caused severe damage to the residence, appeared to have started in the kitchen, where firefighters discovered what they believed to be the remains of Berniece Elam.

The body believed to be that of Nathan Elam was located in a bedroom.

Coroner Kenny Perry said the bodies were released Tuesdays by the state medical examiner. The bodies were returned to Herald & Stewart & Halsey Funeral Home.

Entrepreneur company to announce plans for jobs in Morgan County

Firm's system could revolutionize storage of medical records

Picture if you will a revolutionary new method of transferring medical records from hospital to hospital safely, without hassle, without exorbitant expense or fear of mixup. Visualize a thumb print-activated card, similar to a digital credit card—containing all of your medical history—that you can carry in your pocket from location to location, eliminating the need for costly duplication of tests and hours of information gathering.

On Thursday, May 1, at the Morehead State University Enterprise Center, BAT Medical

Network, a locally-owned entrepreneurial partnership, plans to announce the launch of a new business to develop a medical-record system similar to that described above for hospitals, many of which have already committed to utilize the new technology.

BAT Medical Network, the brainchild of two area entrepreneurs—one a Morgan Countian, the other a Breathitt County native—plans to begin installing computerized equipment needed to utilize personal record cards in area hospitals as early as mid-May.

To be headquartered in West Liberty, the partnership is expected within a few weeks to begin hiring employees with compensation packages starting at about $25,000 per year and above, according to a news release. Positions will be available for employees with data processing, computer, secretarial, and marketing skills along with other office skills and a cadre of technicians to install the new equipment.

BAT Medical Network invites everyone to visit with them for their official announcement next Thursday, May 1, at 12:30 p.m. at the MSU Enterprise Center at 151 University Drive, West Liberty. A model of its new system will be in operation. The system is described as the future of medical history storage.

Appalachian Healthcare is one of the first to sign up for the new system.

Projects approved for Morgan include new judicial center

Funds earmarked for water, sewer pjts, football field

Morgan County's share of the state budget approved last week by the General Assembly will include funds for a new judicial building as well as new water and sewer projects and improvements to the high school football field.

Included in the budget is an authorization for the sale of $250 million in bonds to pay for water and sewer projects throughout the state. Lawmakers also approved water and sewer projects in the state's coal counties and freed up more than $200 million in low-interest loans to finance wastewater projects and $30 million for water project loans.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Cannel City Post Office!

In last week's article about post offices with strange names, I stated there were seven post offices remaining in the county. Well there are eight! I inadvertently omitted Cannel City Post Office, which has been in existence since 1902. The word inadvertently, meaning careless manner, without intending to or without realizing, describes my action in this case. As the young people say today, "My Bad!" Sorry for the omission.

Board to request OK for shortened schl. year

By Miranda Cantrell James

The Morgan County Board of Education during its April 14 meeting at Ezel Elementary School announced that it will submit a proposal to the state to shorten the current school year, which is not slated to end for students and teachers until June 4 and 5 respectively.

Superintendent Joe Dan Gold said a plan utilizing "bank time" will be sent to the Kentucky Department of Education to set closing days for students and teachers as May 30 and June 2.

"The board is hopeful the department will approve the request," Gold said. "We should know in the next few days if the plan was accepted. It is our goal to get the students out of school as early as possible."

In other business, Ezel Elementary School Principal Carol Rose addressed the board about student improvement and professional development activities, while Ezel students Blake Gamble and Lane Cox gave a presentation about the life cycle of butterflies, which they recently studied in class.

Board members also heard the results of their annual audit, which was performed by Certified Public Accountant Michelle K. Carpenter.

"The board received an unqualified report," Gold said. "This is the highest report pos-

State Senator Robert Stivers and State Rep. John Will Stacy, who joined forces to secure legislative authorization for over $1.3 million in funding for water and sewer projects in Morgan County, also announced the approval of an Administrative Office of the Courts budget containing authorization for the expenditure of $16,272,000 for the construction of a new Morgan County judicial center to be built in West Liberty. As authorized by the legislature, the Morgan County judicial facility is fifth in line for construction behind similar projects in Allen, Bracken, Carlisle, and Lawrence counties.

The budget authorizes bond sales totaling $1,327,000 for various water line extensions in southern Morgan County, principally in the Wheelrim, Ky. 191, and Johnson Fork areas.

Senator Stivers also succeeded in securing approval for sale of $250,000 in bonds for water and sewer expansion in West Liberty.

Stivers said that he was pleased to work with Rep. Stacy to obtain the funding for the projects and noted that Judge Executive Tim Conley and Mayor Bob Nickell were instrumental in getting the projects approved.

The Gateway Area Development District also received $22,500 for a water project involving Morgan County.

sible. There were no reportable deficiencies at the state or federal level. Ms. Carpenter also outlined suggestions on how to improve some procedural issues for the board."

Two out-of-state travel requests were approved, including trips to the national TSA competition in Orlando, Fla., for recent MCHS TSA state competition winners, and a Reading First conference in Atlanta, Ga., for Sylvia Carter.

The board awarded its student insurance bid to Bob Roberts Insurance Agency, in Richmond, as well as a surplus school bus bid to Jeff Ellsworth for $1,200.

Study finds challenges to provide child care in Appalachian Ky.

Appalachian child care providers struggle to make their economic ends meet because of too little state financial support according to a study recently released by the Mountain Association for Community Economic Development.

"There isn't enough money in childcare around here to sustain it as a quality business," says Bonita Adams, co-director of the Appalachian Early Childhood Development Center in Whitesburg. "They want to bring manufacturing and development to our area, but you have to have quality child care to support the families who need those jobs. The children need a loving and nurturing environment that will lay the foundation for their future success."

"The reality of the economy in Eastern Kentucky today means most parents cannot afford full-price tuition and the state subsidy isn't sufficient to cover the full cost of care," says Justin Maxon, MACED president. "It is a no-win situation that must be addressed."

The report indicates that investments in the child care industry pay dividends in increased productivity and improved quality of life, but child care providers in rural Appalachian Kentucky face significant market barriers to providing high-quality care. The report, Child Care in Appalachian Kentucky, is based on in-depth interviews with 10 Eastern Kentucky child care center operators and existing research on the child care industry.

Families of all income levels across the country struggle to access high quality care for their children. MACED conducted the study to learn more about issues common to the child care industry manifest in rural Appalachia. In the distressed counties of Appalachian Kentucky, where more than 30 percent of the population lives in poverty, many child care centers are not financially sustainable.

The report also identifies that child care facilities suffer from management challenges and lack of access to needed financial capital to fund equipment and facilities.

The MACED report contains the following recommendations to financial viability in Eastern Kentucky child care centers:

- Implement subsidy reform through shifts in state policy to better support the child care industry.

- Implement tax reform including designating child care tax credits as refundable and creating a tiered tax credit structure that rewards high quality programs.

- Increase incentives for workforce development by expanding scholarships for training and providing wage supports for workers who pursue further education.

- Provide small business support with increased access to technical assistance and business management training.

- Increase access to capital so that financing is more broadly available to child care providers.

MACED is a 31-year-old non-profit organization that word sin Eastern Kentucky and Central Appalachia to create economic opportunity, strengthen democracy and support the sustainable use of natural resources. To read the report, visit www.maced.org, or call 859-986-2373 to receive a hard copy.

Janet Kegley promoted to regional coordinator

GRAYSON, Ky., April 17 — The Kentucky Homeplace program has promoted one of its lay health workers to the position of Northeast Region coordinator.

Janet Kegley, who for the past four plus years has served as a family health care advisor for Elliott and Morgan counties, now will oversee the program's patient assistance efforts in 11 additional counties — Bath, Boyd, Carter, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Magoffin, Martin, Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan. Her office is located at 122 S. Carol Malone Blvd. in Grayson.

Janet Kegley

Kentucky Homeplace links medically underserved rural residents with a variety of health and social services, including free medications. During fiscal year 2007, the program's Northeast Region family health care advisors assisted more than 2,400 local residents and accessed nearly $6.7 million worth of free prescriptions and medical supplies on their behalf.

Indeed, the task of patient advocate is a busy one within the region, where 10 counties have an uninsured rate of 16 percent or higher. Census figures indicate that more than a quarter of the population lives below the federal poverty level in seven of those counties.

"We just want to reach out to the people who need our help," Kegley said. "You don't have to be 'poor' to have a need — there are plenty of people who work but still can't afford health insurance."

A former health care advocate for St. Claire Regional Medical Center in Morehead, Kegley holds an associate degree in business administration from Morehead State University. She is pursuing a bachelor's degree in the same subject, with an emphasis in business information systems.

Kegley lives at Sandy Hook with her husband, Tony, a self-employed logger. They have three adult children.

Since its creation by the state legislature in 1994, Kentucky Homeplace has helped thousands of rural residents in need of health-related assistance. Based at the University of Kentucky Center for Excellence in Rural Health in Hazard, the program uses lay health workers like Kegley to help residents in 58 counties access medications, medical supplies, disease- and wellness-related educational materials, and other services.

Kentucky Homeplace is a publicly funded program provided free of charge to its clients. The program has no eligibility restrictions, although most of the companies from which medications are accessed do have income guidelines. Referrals to Kentucky Homeplace can be made by health care providers, as well as by friends, family members, organizations, or by the client him/herself.

The program's ultimate mission is to enable rural Kentuckians to act as an advocate for their own health care needs.

"Our state has such high rates of diabetes, heart disease and other conditions," said Fran Feltner, director of Kentucky Homeplace. "This program is devoted to the promotion of healthy lifestyles among our clients by encouraging proper diet, exercise and preventive care."

Those in need of assistance — or wishing to make a referral — may contact Kegley by calling (606) 474-2605 or (888) 223-2910, or via e-mail at jkkeg12@uky.edu.

The Door Traveling Youth Revival

Good Friday! No one looked ahead and realized that the day chosen for The Door Youth Revival at Morgan County High School was on this particular Friday, but it couldn't have been intentionally planned any better. The Door Youth Revival is a non denominational traveling youth revival that ministers to not only youth, but people of all ages. Approximately 200 people were in attendance at the first revival, a somewhat modest number. But the Lord didn't get discouraged. He gathered 21 souls that night! What a glorious sight to behold, to see so many young people give their hearts to Christ Jesus. Everyone who gave their lives to God not only gained the gift of eternal life, but also received an Extreme Teen Bible. God was present the night of Good Friday. Hands of Praise and Grace in Motion from Grace Baptist Church performed, as did the contemporary gospel group, Sacred. David Smith, youth pastor from Korea Church of God, brought the message for the everyone. Keith Holbrook made an excellent MC. Many thanks go out to all who helped in any way to bring this event to fruition. The Door Youth Revival's next event will be at Menifee County High School on May 9 at 7:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to a night of praise and worship! May God bless each of you. If anyone would like for the The Door to travel your way, all it takes is a phone cContact Angie Frederick at (606) 743-7814, David Smith at (606) 768-6909, or Patty Cole at (606) 725-4336.

MSU announces smaller than expected tuition hike

MOREHEAD, Ky. — MSU President Wayne D. Andrews has announced that nearly 80 percent of Morehead State University's 9,000 students will face a smaller tuition increase than expected in 2008-09 because of a change in how tuition will be assessed.

"We originally had planned an across-the-board increase of 9.5 percent to deal with the loss of $3 million from our state appropriation and continuing inflationary increases in operating costs. However, our commitment to be compassionate yet creative in helping students and their families has produced a very positive result," Dr. Andrews said. "This new approach means that the vast majority of our students will have a maximum increase of just 7.4 percent and for some it will be much less. In fact, the weighted average represents an increase of only about five percent."

The MSU president noted that the new tuition model, which requires students to pay for each course in which they enroll instead of the traditional flat rate for full-time students, still must be approved by the Council on Postsecondary Education and the University's Board of Regents. At present, none of Kentucky's public universities use the pay-per-credit model for tuition.

Historically, MSU and the state's other public universities have charged a per-credit rate for part-time students and a flat rate for full-time students that covered from 12 to 18 credits per semester for a single price.

To minimize the impact of this "pay-for-what-you-take" model on returning students, MSU will offer an 80 percent discount on all credits beyond 12 per semester.

Students receiving full tuition scholarships will be covered up to 18 credits per term.

MSU's full-time students usually complete an average of 15 credits per semester. Currently, the flat rate for a full-time load is $2,640 per semester for Kentucky undergraduates. Under the new model, they would pay $225 per credit for the first 12 and $45 per credit for additional courses. Hence, the tuition for a full-time student with 15 credits this fall would be $2,835, an increase of $195 per semester which is 7.4 percent above current rates.

The Judge's Corner

By Tim Conley
Judge Executive

Hello from Judge Conley and Staff.

I would like to send my sympathy to all the families who have lost loved ones. Over the past couple of years there seems to have been an increase in local deaths. It reminds me of a song we sing in church — "There's a whole lot of people going Home." By the signs of the times it won't be long, in the twinkling of an eye, we'll all be gone. As we all know, death is a part of life' the important thing is to be ready to meet our God.

I would liked to talk a little about the recent fires in our county. As you know, three lives have been taken in two separate fires in Morgan County within a span of nine days. This has to be devastating for the families. Also it has a huge emotional effect on our volunteer fire fighters, rescue squad and ambulance service members. When there is a fatality in a wreck or fire, these volunteers see things that they can't get out of their minds. But they go on and try to help their neighbors. You know in the middle of the night when the alarms go off a volunteer has to get dressed and drive to anywhere in the county, not knowing what they might face when they reach the site. Afterwards, these volunteers return to their homes, work, or wherever, many times asking themselves what they might could have done differently. Without our volunteers, where would we be?

If you have ever thought about trying to help in your neighborhood, why not join a local fire department or the rescue squad? Get trained in the proper way to help in time of need.

To all of you volunteers, hats off to you! I'm so thankful for each and every one of you,

You can contact me at 450 Prestonsburg Street, West Liberty, Ky. 41472. Phone 606-743-3897, e-mail: mcfc.tc@gmail.com

Perry graduates from basic training at police academy

RICHMOND, Ky., April 18 — Law enforcement officers from 15 agencies across the state graduated today from basic training at the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Training.

Among the graduates of Class 391 who completed 18 weeks of training was Sheldon R. Perry of the West Liberty Police Department.

Training consisted of more than 750 hours of recruit-level-officer academy instruction. Major training areas included homeland security, law offenses and procedures, vehicle operations, firearms, investigations, first aid/CPR, patrol procedures, orientation for new law enforcement families, and mechanics of arrest, restraint and control.

Basic training is mandatory for Kentucky law enforcement officers who are required to comply with the state's Peace Officer Professional Standards Act of 1998. The Department of Criminal Justice Training provides basic training for city and county police officers, sheriffs' deputies, university police, airport police and others.

Water treatment plants recognized

Thirty-two water treatment plants in Kentucky have received awards from the Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet in recognition of their demonstrated success in producing drinking water that consistently meets or exceeds state water quality standards.

The 32 were among 136 public and private water treatment plants in the state that participated in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Area-Wide Optimization Program (AWOP), which challenges plants to reduce turbidity levels below those required by state and federal regulations. Turbidity, or cloudiness, of water can be caused by sand and dirt as well as bacteria and viruses. Particle removal is critical for producing water that is free from dirt and microbes that can cause water-borne diseases.

Rattlesnake Ridge Water District in Grayson was one of two districts to receive the first AWOP Champion award for meeting the optimized water quality goals for particle removal 100 percent of the time for three consecutive years (2004-2007).

Water systems recognized for meeting these goals 95 percent of the time during 2007 include Cave Run Regional Water Commission and the West Liberty Water Company.

A special thank you to my family for all the care and support they have given me during my sickness.

Pictured above are Woman's Club members Gerleen Nickell and Mary Stewart, who addressed the club at its March meeting. Mary shared many childhood memories and spoke about how she chose a career as a teacher and a librarian.

Mrs. Mary Stewart is guest speaker for Woman's Club

Mrs. Mary Stewart was the guest speaker for the March meeting of GFWC/KFWC Morgan County Woman's Club. The meeting's theme was "Women's History Month."

Mary shared some of her childhood memories and how she chose the career of teaching and becoming a librarian.

As a young girl living in Rowan County, she remembers her mother having three irons on the stove, getting hot for the next piece of clothing to be pressed. Mary also related that her grandmother always had a garden and worked very hard at canning the fruits and vegetables.

Later the family moved to Louisville, and Mary's mother found the nearest public library for her.

"I loved that place," Mary said.

She loved the challenge of reading novels and other books as a young girl.

"I could hardly wait until the librarian would permit me to check out adult fiction books," Mary added.

Living in Louisville, Mary was introduced to art and artistic forms by visiting the Speed Museum and other exhibits.

Mary also expressed her love for Morgan County and the close-knit community that she has experienced.

"Just to be able to rely on your neighbor in time of need and emergencies really means something special," Mary said. "I love the small town atmosphere, and the wonderful people."

Mary and her husband, Sid, have lived in Morgan County since 1961.

The Morgan County Woman's Club welcomes Mary as a member of the local, state and national organization of women's clubs.

Chautauqua tonight at 7:00 at the Library

George McGee as
Henry Clay

Kentucky Chautauqua presents George McGee as Henry Clay, Kentucky's great statesman, on Thursday, April 24, at 7 p.m., at Morgan County Public Library, Room 201. Refreshments will be served at 6 p.m.

Born in Hanover County, Virginia, in 1777, Henry Clay was a son of a Baptist minister who died when Henry was 4. Henry came to Lexington, Ky., in November 1797, after earning his license to practice law.

In Lexington his career turned into over a half century of success in law, politics, and farming. He was elected to political office for the first time in 1803. Three years later he was appointed to fill an unexpired term in the U.S. Senate. Following his return to the legislature, he became Speaker of the Kentucky House in 1808. In 1811, he won a seat in Congress, and was immediately elected Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives. He held this job 14 years, until President John Quincy Adams appointed him Secretary of State.

Henry Clay married Lucretia Hart, the daughter of a prominent Lexington family, in 1799. They were the parents of 11 children. Clay enjoyed farming and raising horses when not politicking. His horse breeding program, carried on by his descendants, played a major role in the development of Kentucky's thoroughbred industry.

Join us for this presentation by George McGee, director of theater at Georgetown College and a veteran actor who has worked on the stage, in films, and on network television. Kentucky Chautauqua is an exclusive presentation of the Kentucky Humanities Council, Inc.

May 31 deadline to report acreage for small grains

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 15 — Farm Service Agency (FSA) is reminding agricultural producers of the acreage reporting requirements that must be met prior to receiving program benefits. Filing an accurate acreage report for all crops and land uses, including failed acreage and prevented planting acreage, can prevent the loss of benefits for a variety of programs. The final date to certify small grains in May 31.

Producers must report acreages to maintain eligibility for Price Support programs, Noninsured Crop Assistance Program (NAP), and Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). All cropland on all farms must be certified to remain eligible for these programs. Producers are encouraged to report all crop acreages for eligibility to participate in future farm programs.

Producers are also reminded of other final crop acreage reporting dates:

- July 15 for certification of all other crops, except small grain and value loss crops.

- For Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) acreages, earlier of: 15 calendar days before the onset of harvest or grazing of the specific crop acreage being reported, or July 15 for all crops except small grains and value loss crops.

- Sept. 30 for certification of 2009 NAP value loss crops. Value loss crops are aquaculture, ornamental nursery, Christmas trees, Ginseng, and turf-grass sod.

- Sept. 3- for certification of 2009 NAP Floriculture.

Perry completes 18 weeks of basic police training
On Friday, April 18, West Liberty's newest police officer, Sheldon R. Perry, graduated from the 18-week Department of Criminal Justice basic training program in Richmond.
Officer Perry received recognition in physical fitness and flag ceremony detail. He must now successfully complete an eight-week field training program before he is allowed solo patrol.
The Department of Criminal Justice Training (DOCJT) is a nationally recognized agency that provides state-of-the-art training to law enforcement officers in Kentucky. It is one of four departments in the Kentucky Justice and Public Safety Cabinet and has the primary mission of providing quality training and improvements to the criminal justice system.

April 21 – I received the best gift I have had in a long while this week. Angie Keeton and her husband, Vinson, surprised me with a large mess of mushrooms. Angie called me over the radio on the bus and said she had something for me. We exchanged the bag of mushrooms on one of the stops where our buses meet. I was so excited I could have kissed her, but there were some people sitting on the porch at the house, so I thought better. Thanks, Angie! The mushrooms were delicious.
Several weeks back I announced that Mike and Alisha Cantrell, of Coffee's Creek, will soon be celebrating the birth of a new child. On Sunday, Grandma Delaine revealed that the child is going to be a girl and will be arriving around Aug. 11, 2008.
Phyllis Beasley, sister of Mason and Clyde Montgomery, was in last week to visit. She went back to Ohio on Saturday.
Ethel Bolin went to Ohio with her daughter and son-in-law, Diane and James Cantrell, on Friday to Dayton, Ohio. Ethel's brother, Henry's son, passed away. He had been in failing health for some time.
Frankie Keaton, 58, of Dedman Branch Road, passed away on Saturday, April 19, at King's Daughters Hospital in Ashland. Frankie had been a bus driver at one time for the Morgan County school system. Condolences go to both of these families.

There will be a benefit auction at East Valley School for Charlie Robbins, of Lick Branch Road, 6-8 p.m. Saturday, May 31. Please try to attend. If you would like to donate items or time, please contact the family.
Bazie (Buddy) Dulen will be coming home this Friday on a six-day leave from Wisconsin. Then he will be leaving for a year for a tour of duty in Afghanistan. You might want to call and just say hi before he leaves.
Elva Jean Pack called me with her family birthdays yesterday, but as I walked out the door I left the list on my dresser. I will get them next week.
Bobby Jenkins and his son-in-law, Jim Conley, from Ohio, preached revival last week at Lick Branch Church.
Helene Wright went to Lexington last week for a heart catheterization. She is back home and doing fine.
Hello to Jake and Mondell Bradley. We have missed you in church the last couple of Sun

(Omitted Last Week)
April 14 – Greetings from the Junction:
Boy, do I have a slew of birthdays this week! They include Cori Adkins (19), April 6; Billy Wayne Bolin, April Vest (17), Brody Owen (16), April 7; Gary Cantrell, April 9; John Leeper, April 11; Pam Rowland, April 15; Mason Montgomery, April 16; and Johnny Owens (41), April 18. Happy birthday to all!
Edwina and Cortis Jenkins have a new granddaughter named Allison. Her parents are Daniel and Cortney Green, of West Liberty. Congratulations!
Amy and Caroline Johnson were visiting the home of Earnest (Poppy) and Brenda (Granny) Jenkins, of Coffee's Creek, last week. Little Caroline has them wrapped around her fingers. There is nothing like grandchildren.
Congratulations goes out to Clyde and Diane Cantrell. On Saturday, April 17, they celebrated 28 years of marriage. Whew!
I was glad to see that Hunter Keeton took a big turkey. He is becoming quite a hunter.
I have not heard how my big turkey competition is going on with Jerald and Patty Ferguson. I wonder who the big prize winner will be this year.

Resolutions of Respect

In memory of Bonnie Pack who died April 1, 2008. Death has again entered our Chapter Hall and called to the Eternal Home a dear member, who has completed faithful labor here in ministering to the cry of the orphan, to the call of want and to the piteous wail of sorrow, and as a recompense has received the welcome plaudit, "well done" from the Great Master. And Whereas, the loving Father has called our beloved and respected member home and having been a true and faithful member of our Order, therefore be it Resolved, That Elkfork Chapter No. 561 Order of the Eastern Star of Elkfork, Ky., in testimony of its loss, drape its charter in mourning for thirty days, and that we tender to the family our sincere condolence in their deep affliction and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family. Jerry Haney, Wilma Jean Day, Wanda Barker, Committee

A father came home from chruh, and his little girl asked, "What did the man preach about?" "God," he answered. "Was He our God?" she wondered. It's one thing to say God, but it's another thing to say "our" God. Christianity is more than a profession, it's a possession. And this poossession works two ways. The Christia possesses Christ, and Christ possesses the Christian. To possess God in Christ is to have all that you need for this life and the next. Have God and you have all. To be possessed by Him is to have absolute security and satisfaction. Do you possess Christ, and does He possess you? Subscribe To The Licking Valley Courier

My Immortal Beloved

As a wee lad, I listened to Bible stories
Extolling the righteous and their glories
And of Jesus and His love for girls and boys
Then love became a strap across my back
And Jesus became a weak light in the black
And blue misery of a life without childhood joys
Then this boy became a man and left in the night
And searched for the child he once knew in light
That had been drowned in loneliness and despair
"Brother, what is it? Why do you scream?
I will hold you and show you it is only a dream
I am here for you, as God can't be everywhere
What is it that causes you to scream into the night?"
"Don't you see it brother? It's there again tonight!"
"Don't worry brother. I am here, I won't let it harm
The monster can't come as I hold you in my arm."
But nothing could hide us from the monster of day
He was a power that wouldn't let Love show the way
Then, like a thief in the ngiht, I left the dread
But I could not get the monster out of my head
And I knew that I had left others behind in the night
With no one to hold them and scare away the fright
And who would hold me since Jesus was to busy?
As fear came to grip me so hard that I was dizzy.
Then, like Mother Mary, Love held me tight
As I lay trembling from a Golgotha night
And like a child, I saw Jesus in her eyes
And felt a love that my past could not disguise
It was Easter in her arms, as like a helpless child
I felt the love of Mother Mary, tender and mild
So now I pray may it be in heaven as it is here
May Love whisper her secrets in every child's ear?
As I lay me down to sleep I pray Love my soul keep
And if at night I should wake up for the past to weep
I will remember God's love in her tender caress
And pray soon no child will suffer fear and duress.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Shane Montgomery
April 29, 1972 • Jan. 16, 2008

I've thought and thought what to say on this day. A day that should be so joyous, the day you were born. And all I can say is I miss you more and more everyday. I'll never know why you had to leave us on that cold January day. A day that changed so much in everyway. I begged and pleaded just let me have one more day to tell him we can't live without him, there's just no way. I hope and pray you're in a better place and still come to visit everyday. Mom and I will never get over that day. We will love you and miss you everyday, until we get to see you again someday. Happy Birthday Little Brother. Very sadly missed everyday, Belinda, Kevin and Kyle, Mom and Don (pd.) Words Of Wisdom A person with one watch knows what time it is; a person with two watches is never sure.

POPPING CORN
Just when the room is getting dark
And the night wind whistles low,
The children gather around the fire all in a merry row.
Noon's the time for the bubbles light,
And tops may spin at morn,
But just when the twilight shadows fall
Is the time to pop the corn.
See it! Hear it! Pop! Pop! Pop! Hippy! Skippity! Hop! Hop! Hop!
Dolls and hoops may do for morn,
But nights the time to pop the corn.
Golden grains in your hands you hold,
But into the pan they go,
And quick as a wink the wizard heat will turn them all to snow.
Shake them up with a steady hand over the firelight bright.
Then turn them into the big, brown bowl
In their fluted caps of white.
See them! Hear them! Pop! Pop! Pop!
Hippy! Skippity! Hop! Hop! Hop!
Kites and tops may do for morn,

THE TEACHER

FIRST OF FOUR PARTS
BY TONY ADKINS

May 2007 marked 40 years since I graduated from Morgan County High School. I look back and try to imagine where all that time has gone and how so quickly. I did not attend the 10th, 20th or 30th reunions for reasons I can not explain but did attend the one this year and it turned out to be an enjoyable experience. I had not seen some classmates since the day of our graduation and continued to remember them as they looked that day, although I knew they would not. Some have passed on and are but memories. I have many memories from school, some good and some just as well forgotten. Things that seemed so important at that time turned out to have little meaning later in life.

I do have clear memories of my teachers during 12 years of public education. Webster's Dictionary describes a teacher as "one who teaches, gives instructions, imparts knowledge or skill, and trains by example, practice or exercise." I have always felt that "trains by example" is the most important part of being a teacher. I remember some teachers that were very poor examples for students. A few appeared to not be well suited for the profession and had little idea about "imparting" knowledge to us. Others acted as if we were bothering them by asking questions or for instructions in class. Some tried to teach by intimidation and I remember things that were said or done to me or others in class.

Arthur C. Johnson

After all these years, I usually think of their actions or words when I see them. We are not to hold grudges and I hope that I am not by remembering. The majority of my teachers were kind, very patient, and set good moral examples and tried different methods to help us get off to a good start in life. Students were not always good examples or easy to work with. Some were just down right ornery and showed blatant disrespect for teachers. I could have been a better example myself.

One teacher that I will always remember as being good, kind and a positive example is Mr. Arthur C. Johnson. I have loved history for as long as I can remember and always looked forward to Mr. Johnson's class. He made us feel as if we were part of his lectures. I am sure some students were bored as, I was in other classes. I especially liked his talks about his experiences during World War II. It was always good to listen to someone that was there and part of history. He called Bobby Adkins "Mr. Adkins #1" and me "Mr. Adkins #2." No matter how he was treated by students, I never heard him say an unkind word or recall seeing him display anger. He will always be what I picture a teacher being.

Growing At Grace

In the fall of 2005, after an article about Grace's Youth Group going to a church camp out in Western Kentucky was put in the Courier, a member of the church was asked by Pastor Mike Lindon to keep their ears and eyes open and write about Grace Baptist Church occasionally and put it in the paper. Our goal was to let anyone who was interested know what we were all about, what we believe, what was important to us, to make them aware of some of the events we have, and most important, to let everyone know they are welcome!

We have had lots of good and positive comments about the column over the past few years and we want to express our sincere thanks to all those of you who liked what we had to say, and to those whose thoughts were less charitable, but thought, as the saying goes, "If I can't say anything good, I won't say anything at all," we thank you also.

Growing at Grace will no longer be done on a regular basis, but Pastor Mike may have something to say occasionally. We continue to love having guests and want everyone to know they are always welcome! May God richly bless you.

Morgan County's strange post office names

Second Of Three Parts By W. Lynn Nickell

Included in this series are a few of the unusual names of post offices that have existed in Morgan County.

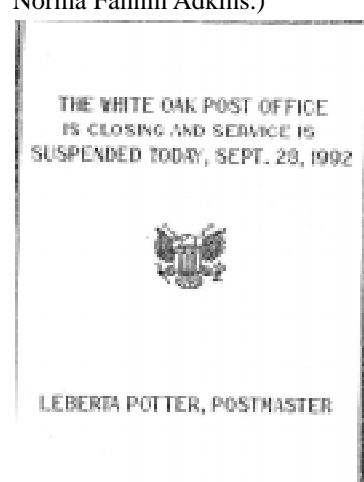

Essex Post Office was established in 1899 and continued until 1907. James W. Davis was the only postmaster. The office was located along Rt. 460 next to the Magoffin County line and was moved to Magoffin County in 1907.

The Jeston Post Office was located in the Zag area on Rt. 976 along Sinking Creek. It was named for Jeston Testerman Gevedon, mother of Victoria Gevedon Rose, wife of the first postmaster. The first name submitted for the office was Rose. Jeff D. Rose was the first postmaster in 1905. The office was discontinued in 1913 with mail being sent to Yocum. (Acknowledgement: Nina Gevedon Miller.)

The Lamar Post Office was located between White Oak and Holliday. The office was established in 1906 with Samuel L. Reed as postmaster. In 1917, the office was discontinued with mail being sent to Harper. (Acknowledgement: Arnold Holliday.)

Lizzie Post Office was on Rt. 650 along Big Mandy. The first postmaster was David "Nelse" Trimble in 1910. The office was discontinued in 1919 and re-established in 1930. Lizzie Post Office was closed in 1934 with mail being sent to Redwine. The first name submitted was Trimble. (Acknowledgement: Norma Fannin Adkins.)

This notice was placed on the door of the White Oak Post Office the day it closed. Leberta Potter was the postmaster.

There was also an office called Lizzielane. It was located between Nickell and Buskirk. Mattie Burton was the first postmaster in 1916. The office was discontinued in 1927 with mail being sent to Peyton.

Of course, Moon is the classic post office name. Moon Post Office was established in 1905 and discontinued in 1967. It was located on Rt. 172 between Crockett and Relief. According to Sandy Dalton, the last postmaster, the office was named by James Wallin while he and his wife were sitting on the porch looking at the moon. They were so impressed with the full moon they named the post office Moon. James was the first postmaster.

Ophir was a city in 1 Kings 10:11 where King Solomon obtained his gold. This sounded like a fitting name for a post office. J.M. Pendleton was named first postmaster of the Ophir office in 1882, followed by numerous postmasters, in fact, 26! It seems to have had a stormy existence. There was an order to rescind the office in 1891, 1901 and again in 1904 but it survived each rescinding order. The office is located on Lower Sand Lick Creek.

There was a post office along Coffee Creek called Ret, later changed to Silver Hill. The Ret office was established in 1898 and had the name changed to Silver Hill in 1909. The first name submitted was Dewey.

Then too, there was Twenty-six. This name, along with Index, always fascinated me. Bertha Rowland, the last postmaster of Twenty-six, told me the office was named after 25 names were submitted to petition for the office. There were 26 lines numbered on the submitting paper with the 26th line blank. Rather than pick from the petitioners' names, the Post Office department chose the number 26! Someone in the Post Office Department had a bizarre sense of humor! The first postmaster was Martha Rowland in 1927. The office was discontinued in 1956. Twenty-six was located on Rt. 772 on the Dehart road. The first three names submitted for the office were West Dehart, Perry Bend and Mussel Shoals.

Inspiration Corner

By Louise Winchip

In Memory of Louise Lee Winchip

Previously printed in The Wolfe County New

Each of us has a talent, a gift from the Lord that He wants to use for Himself. He told this parable to the people. Three men were given talents. Two used theirs, but the third man buried his. This account is recorded in Matthew 25:14-30.

Think about that unused talent, and consider how it might apply to our own life. What are we doing with our talent, or talents? We may persuade ourselves as did the slothful servant that we have a legitimate excuse for hiding it. We are shy and do not want to attract attention to ourselves. We know in our hearts that we could teach a Sunday School Class, but we don't want that kind of attention. We remain silent - hiding our talent.

Selfishness about our time is often a way to hide our talent. To call on people to write a not of encouragement, or to make a telephone call, involves time. We know folks who need a word from time to time. Just someone to acknowledge that they are a person and worth recognition. When we think about this the thought is pushed to the back of our mind, there isn't time today. Once more the talent is hidden.

Think about it like this. Perhaps a gift has been carefully, thoughtfully selected, expecting it to bring joy to the one receiving it. Disappointment is keen when the gift is set aside and neglected.

Our talents are gifts from God. He gives each one of us a special talent to be used for Himself. One special talent is to help others. Listen to their needs, hear their inner cry, and just be available. We can hide this talent as did the slothful servant. Do you reckon the Lord is grieved over our hidden talents, as the giver of the rejected gift was hurt and disappointed? We can pull that talent out of hiding, ask the Lord to use it for His glory. He will!

Gas saving tips for summer vacationing with the family

With so many people hitting the byways and highways this summer for vacation, work, barbecues and family outings, vehicular travel is sure to rise. So, why spend more than you have to on gasoline?

The following tips, from the non-profit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), will help save more of your money for fun times at the beach or mountains as you head out on your summer vacation.

Before Setting Out

• Check your tires. Under-inflated tires or poorly aligned wheels waste fuel by forcing the engine to work harder. Out-of-line wheels, as evidenced by uneven tread wear, should be aligned by a professional.

• Follow the service schedules listed in your owner's manual. Replace filters and fluids as recommended, and have engine performance problems (e.g., rough idling, poor acceleration) corrected at a repair facility. Given today's high-tech engines, it is wise to have this type of work done by auto technicians who are ASE certified in engine performance.

On Your Trip

• Break the speeding habit. Speeding to your destination can decrease your miles per gallon by 15 percent or more.

• Sudden accelerations guzzle gas, too. Anticipate traffic patterns ahead, and adjust your speed gradually. Use cruise control where feasible.

• Use windows and air conditioning wisely. Your mileage should improve if you keep the windows closed at highway speeds, since air drag is reduced. This is true even with the air conditioning on — assuming that the system is in good working order. But try to avoid using your air conditioner in heavy, stop-and-go traffic.

When You Get Back

• Remove all vacation items and clutter right away. This will reduce the weight your vehicle's engine must push.

• And take off that rooftop cargo carrier. Like closed windows, this will reduce air drag and increase your mileage.

ASE was founded to improve the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians. ASE-certified technicians wear blue-and-white shoulder insignia and carry credentials listing their exact area or areas of certification. Their employers often display the blue-and-white ASE sign. Visit www.ase.com for more car care tips.

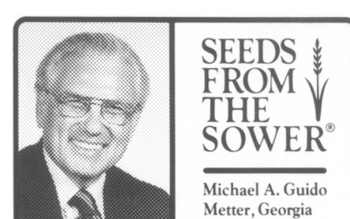

Child Abuse: A Matter Of Fact

The difference between abuse and neglect

The difference between abuse and neglect is that abuse represents an action against a child while neglect represents a lack of action for the child. In other words, abuse may be thought of an act of commission while neglect is an act of omission.

In abuse, a physical or mental injury is inflicted upon a child. In neglect, there is a failure to meet the minimum needs of the child such as the need for adequate food, supervision, shelter, guidance, education, clothing, or medical care.

It may be mentioned at this point that abuse may be directed toward only one child in the family while neglect usually involves all the children in the family.

When I was a child, I failed to pull up some weeds when told. Later, when I was having a hard time doing it, my father said, "Son, had you pulled them earlier, you could have pulled them easier."

Destroy your bad habits now, or they'll destroy you later.

Look at the word habit. It's spelled h-a-b-i-t. Remove the letter "h" and you have "a-b-i-t."

Remove the letter "a" and you have "b-i-t," bit. Remove the letter "b" and you have "i-t," it. Do it a bit and you have habit.

Got bad habits? Pull them up now. Plant good habits in their place. Ask the Lord. He'll help you.

Yet, they continue working hard.

The track team would like to take this opportunity to say "Thanks" to Mrs. Stacy Perry and Mr. Barry Fribsy for giving of their time to come out and work with some of the track members. Mrs. Perry worked with the relay teams on coming out of the starting blocks and passing the baton. Mr. Fribsy worked with the shot put and discus throwers. The parents and family members who are bringing snacks for each meet! The track team would also like to thank Mr. Woods and the welding program at the Morgan County Area Technology Center for donating a cabinet to the track program. A big "Thank You" to the LV Courier for supporting the youth of Morgan County!

The coaches are very happy with the effort put forth by all of the track members. The effort by all to get along and to work together and to work hard! Coach Linkous said, "We are lucky to have good people like Coach Garry Harper and Coach Amber Day Adams out here working with our young people. They are both knowledgeable of track and are very patient with each track member. They want to build a strong program for the athletes. It is not about the coaches, it is about our young people and what is best for them. I am very happy to be associated with this track group and the coaches."

Next week: Rowan County results, Fleming County and Ashland Classic.

Lady Cougars lose to West Carter, Johnson Central

By David Patrick
West Carter - 7
Morgan Co. - 4

West Carter scored five runs in the first inning and added two insurance runs in the fifth as the Lady Comets beat Morgan County, 7-4.

West's early scoring came courtesy of four base hits and three Lady Cougar fielding errors. The visitors sent nine batters to the plate, although Gerrica Dye did manage to strike out three in the opening inning. Dye then struck out five of the next six batters she faced over the next two innings to keep her team in the game.

The Lady Cougars were able to cut into the deficit with a two-run third inning. Sam Jarvis and Cassie Bowersock began the inning with a walk and single, respectively. Two outs later, Rickayla Ison cashed in the base runners with a two-run single to make it a 5-2 game.

But West got those runs back with a two-run fifth inning, which included two walks and as many hits. Morgan got its final run in the sixth when Meghan Howard singled and later scored.

Howard and Bowersock combined for five of the Lady Cougars' ten base hits.

Johnson Central - 3
Morgan Co. - 1

The Lady Cougars banged out nine hits, but scored only one run, falling to Johnson Central in West Liberty, 3-1.

The Lady Eagles opened the scoring with a run on four hits in the first inning. Morgan responded with two-out hits from Cassie Bowersock and Gerrica Dye in the bottom of the frame, but was unable to dent the plate. After Central scored twice in the third inning for a 3-0 lead, Morgan managed four hits to score Bowersock and trim the deficit back to three after four innings.

Morgan got a double from Bowersock in the fifth, a single by Tanieka Salyer in the sixth, and base hits from Rickayla Ison and Sam Jarvis in the seventh, but failed to score any of the four runners.

Meanwhile, Dye surrendered no runs and just five hits over the final three innings. For the game, the Lady Cougar ace struck out nine and walked three.

General Assembly ends regular session

By John Whitlock
Kentucky Press Association
News Bureau

After 60 days pondering bills and votes, the Kentucky General Assembly 2008 regular session came to a close in the early hours of April 16.

Although the session was constitutionally required to end by midnight April 15, the leadership of the House of Representatives and the Senate stopped the clock in hopes of passing some last-minute legislation.

But in the end, two major pieces of legislation concerning ethics and pension plans for state workers failed to become law.

Traditionally, the final two days of the General Assembly are geared to possibly overriding vetoes issued by the governor. During this session only one veto — a line-item action that would allocate $1.2 million to help bring broadband Internet service to all Kentuckians — was under serious consideration to be overridden, House leadership said.

Explaining his decision to veto the item, Gov. Steve Beshear said he wanted to make sure the state's "scarce resources" were allocated in the most efficient manner possible.

"This amount represents a 26-percent increase over current grant levels for these services in a tight-budget that decreases most appropriations," Beshear said. "I support wholeheartedly the continuation of the broadband initiative and accessibility of high speed Internet throughout the commonwealth and am proud of the great strides made by ConnectKentucky to date."

The items vetoed by Beshear also included:

- Kentucky Infrastructure Authority compensations to Area Development Districts

- use of local district capital outlay funds by the School Facilities Construction Committee

- a requirement that the two state nurseries maintain normal business operations for the next two fiscal years.

- a provision that imposes a limit on assessments paid by horse race tracks to the Horse Racing Authority for each live-day racing for the next two fiscal years.

- a requirement that would require a piece of state-owned property in Kenton County to be used for public use.

- a section of the budget related to state contributions to the Personnel Cabinet State Salary and Compensation Fund that Beshear believes is already covered by other regulations.

- a funding increase for the Kentucky Pride program from the Transportation Cabinet's Contingency Fund.

- a provision that would limit rural secondary road program money to only be used on rural and secondary roads but not on county-owned roads.

- an item that Beshear believes would overlap with the duties of the Governor's Task Force on Military Base Realignment.

- provision in the judiciary budget that would reduce the branch's ability to make layoffs is necessary.

But as the session wound down, none of Beshear's vetoes were addressed by the General Assembly.

The focus of the final hours turned to closed-door negotiations focusing on pension plans and ethics reforms.

For much of the day, the prospects of each bill seemed to change depending on who was speaking.

As late as 3 p.m., on the final day, Speaker of the House Jody Richards, D-Bowling Green, said the ethics reform bill was "languishing" but refused to call it dead.

The Senate went into recess late in the afternoon to allow its state government committee to consider any ethics-related legislation that passed by the House.

But after the members began to sit down, chairman Damon Thayer, R-Georgetown, said the committee wouldn't meet until the legislation was ready to be considered. The Senate was eventually called back into session to consider other bills.

Although a compromise on reforming the pension system for state workers seemed to be close several times during the last day, the House and Senate couldn't ultimately reach a compromise, leading both houses to pass different pieces of legislation that wouldn't be approved by the other chamber.

Despite the failure to pass pension or ethics reforms, the House and Senate did approve several bills, including changes to teacher certification and $75 million in water and sewer projects.

The General Assembly also approved a bond sale to finance the start-up costs for new bridges in Louisville, an issue that had been in contention for most of the session.

The final day did produce one major compromise.

House Bill 2, sponsored by House Floor Leader Rocky Adkins, D-Sandy Hook, offered tax credits for building more energy efficient homes and for using Energy Star-approved appliances.

Another energy-related measure, Senate Bill 165, sponsored by Bob Leeper, I-Paducah, earmarked $50 million in bond sales to make state-owned building more energy efficient and $30 million in loans to help small businesses go green.

After a committee moved to include the major components of SB 165 into HB 2, Adkins' proposal was approved by the Senate.

HB 2, with the provisions included in SB 165, passed the House 93-0 and moves to Beshear's desk for consideration.

Richards said he was disappointed some important bills did not get passed, but said the major goal of the 2008 regular session was met.

"We did get a budget passed and to a lot of people, that's the most important thing the legislature has to do," Richards said. "You always wish you could get more done, but there were a lot of issues this session."

In other action:

- On April 15, Beshear signed into law SB 196, the so-called Adventure Tourism Bill during an outdoor ceremony at the Capitol.

The bill will allow Kentucky to enter into agreements with private property owners that would remove liability issues if the land is used for public recreation.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Brandon Smith, R-Hazard, has had wide support across the state as the popularity of ATV clubs has increased.

Beshear said the bill was a good example of how members of both houses of the General Assembly can work together for the benefit of all Kentuckians.

"I thank each of them for working together to promote the tourist opportunities we have throughout the commonwealth and for recognizing the positive social and economic effects this legislation will have on the state," Beshear said.

- A bill that would require children younger than 7 and between 40 and 50 inches tall be secured in a booster seat has been signed into law by Beshear.

During a ceremony April 15 in the Capitol Rotunda, Beshear said SB 120 will save lives and will decrease the chances of a child being injured in a vehicle crash by 60 percent.

"Booster seats are proven to be effective at saving young lives. This bill provides a reasonable approach to help achieve our ultimate goal of saving lives and reducing injuries," Beshear said. "I commend the Kentucky Senate and House for their efforts on this important issue."

The law requires police officers to issue courtesy warnings for violations until 2009, after which there will be a $30 fine.

People cited for the offense would be given the option of purchasing a booster seat instead of paying the fine.

- The House honored three retiring members Russ Mobley, R-Campbellsville, Sheldon Baugh, R-Russellville, and John Vincent, R-Ashland while the Senate issued resolutions commemorating the retirement of Sens. Richie Sanders, R-Franklin, and Richard Roeding, R-Lakeside Park.

Barring a special session called by Beshear, the legislature will not convene again until Tuesday, Jan. 6, 2009, for its 30-day session.

Fleming County – 4

Tyler Adkins singled to score Andy Fannin with the go-ahead run in the 10th inning as Morgan County beat hosting Fleming County, 5-4.

Fannin had reached on a lead-off walk and stole second before scoring the tie-breaking run. Adkins's run-scoring single capped a four-hit afternoon for the Cougar first baseman.

Brandon Evans's team had taken a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Fannin singled and eventually scored on Bubba Loudermilk's RBI hit. After the Panthers tied the game with a run in the bottom of the first, the Cougars added three in the second to go up 4-1. Mitchell Harvey and Blake DeHaven drew walks to start the rally before Joel Nickell cleared the bases with a two-run double.

Not only did Adkins collect the game-winning hit, but he also held the Panthers in check on the mound. Adkins pitched the final three innings, retiring nine of the 11 batters he faced to earn the win.

grabbed the early 4-0 lead. After scoring lone runs in the second and third innings, Brandon Evans's team put together a two-out rally with a four-run sixth to stretch the lead to 10-1. Jarred Fannin had the big blow of inning with a two-run triple.

The Cougars then picked up some insurance with Loudermilk and Jarred Fannin both scoring in the seventh inning. Loudermilk paced the offense with four hits and two runs scored.

On the mound, pitcher Mitchell Harvey held Jenkins scoreless through the first four innings before giving up a pair of walks and a run-scoring triple in the fifth. However, Harvey struck out four of the final seven batters he faced over the final two innings to record the win.

Lawrence County – 7
Morgan County – 1

Lawrence County scored two runs in the first inning and added three in the third on its way to a 7-1 win over visiting Morgan County.

Pitcher Jon Lopez gave up three extra base hits in the first inning to fall in a 2-0 hole. Lopez gave up four more hits in the third frame as Lawrence stretched the lead to 5-0.

The Cougars scored their lone run in the fifth when Tyler Adkins doubled and came around on consecutive ground outs by Bubba Loudermilk and Mitchell Harvey. Lopez collected Morgan County's only other base hit.

Matthew 28:18
(King James Version)
 “And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, all power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.”

Mark 16:17-18
 “And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues.
 “They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.”

Where is the power of God in your life, ministry and church? Our lives and ministries lack the power of God because of one main reason: people have rejected Jesus. We accept water baptisms. We accept church creeds. We accept different versions of the Bible. We accept preachers. We accept religion. We accept doctrines. We accept denominations. We accept traditions. We accept everyone and everything except Jesus

All power was given unto Jesus. He gave it to the church. Therefore, if you or your church lacks the power of God it is only because Jesus has not given it unto you. Jesus has not given it unto you because He only gives it to those who have accepted him and continually follow him daily.

If you need healed, Jesus is the healer. If you need salvation, Jesus is the Savior. If you need deliverance, Jesus is the deliverer. If you want the power of God, Jesus is the only one who can give it to you.

1 Timothy 2:5
(King James Version)
“For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Jesus Christ.”
